

Beachcomber offers the best in family holidays to Mauritius

Families come first in Mauritius, with Beachcomber hotels setting the standard in resort holidays that will suit the wishes of travellers of all ages and interests.

Featuring eight exquisite beachfront properties, each with an array of facilities ideal for families, and a range of unique and special offers, Beachcomber has become the perfect choice for families seeking to reconnect with each other in a relaxing and fun environment.

Families can be assured of great experience when entrusting Beachcomber with their all-important family break. Special rates are available for children and teenagers.

"Unlike many other Mauritian hotels offering a children's rate only up until the age of 12 years old, Beachcomber hotels' rate applies for children up to the age of 17 years old," says Nicolas Staub, Head of Sales. "Some of our meal plans are offered at a discounted rate for 12- to 17-year-olds, while children below 11 years of age eat for free. During the low season, children up to 17 years old enjoy complimentary meals and accommodation when sharing room with their parents."

For parents of younger children and infants, there are a range of personalised child-friendly services and facilities, including babysitters (at an extra charge) and bottle sterilisers. Baby bathtubs and cots are available on request.

For older children, entertainment is tailored to suit different age groups, personalities and interests with complimentary Kids and Teens Clubs. The Kids Club, for children aged 3 to 11 years old, encourages kids to be active and creative while enjoying local and eco-friendly activities under the watchful eye of experienced entertainment teams.

The Teens Club, only for teens aged 12 to 17 years, is aimed at socialising and bonding while participating to a range of activities. There is also a Teens Club mobile app that connects teens in Beachcomber properties in northern Mauritius (excluding Royal Palm), as well as at Paradis and Dinarobin. Teens can meet, share experiences and find exciting activities in and around the hotels.

With their children suitably entertained and cared for, parents can relax in a tropical paradise with the peace of mind that their youngsters can enjoy all the activities on offer in a safe environment.

The whole family can relax in comfort in Beachcomber's modern range of family suites, apartments and villas. Bespoke rooms can be selected according to the family needs, with two bedrooms and two separate bathrooms available.
