

ROYAL PALM GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB

DESIGNED BY CABELL. B. ROBINSON

DOMAINE ROYAL PALM
MARRAKECH

Its exceptional sunshine, diversity and quality of its courses, have made Morocco a must golf destination. With the foothills of the Atlas mountains and snowy peaks in the background, the Domaine Royal Palm Golf fits perfectly both in this tradition and in the celebration of this very well preserved nature. Familiar with the Moroccan culture and its relationship to land, American Cabell B. Robinson created this incredible garden-course by combining with subtlety all the nuances of a generous nature. Genuine showcase of a new lifestyle in Marrakech, the Royal Palm Golf & Country Club, under the guardianship and full protection requirement of its Director Michel Besanceney, has today all the qualities to quickly become an international reference.

Bearing the Royal Palm mark, the Country Club offers of course many facilities both user-friendly and sporty: a bar to play another game, three restaurant, locker rooms with massage rooms to relax aching muscles, as well as a fitness center, a yoga room, a swimming pool, and of course, a pro shop offering a selection of the best equipment.

The 18-hole golf course covers 75 hectares

HOLE DESCRIPTION

- HOLE N°1 (Par 4: 410m)

Admire the different varieties of grass that breed in the waste bunker, a real pleasure for the eye. From the tee, lean to the right towards the driving range's flank and you shall have no trouble reaching the wide-open green in regulation.

- HOLE N°2 (Par 3: 177m)

Pin positioning changes the levels of difficulty on this short Par 3. The reassuring presence of the green-side fairway, a bail out area, comforts those intimidated by the wild rough on the left side.

- HOLE N°3 (Par 4: 327m)

It's birdie time on this short, dogleg right. The water hazard needs to be taken into account by the long hitters who will risk driving to the green under downwind conditions.

- HOLE N°4 (Par 4: 344m)

A tee shot that can be managed without great difficulty except for the long bunker that stretches over the left side of the fairway. Access to the green is well guarded calling for a second shot that requires great precision.

- HOLE N°5 (Par 4: 391m)

Admire the Atlas Mountains and take a minute to relax. You'll need it to achieve the driving distance that will enable you play this long Par 4 in regulation.

- HOLE N°6 (Par 5: 463m)

This first Par 5 may appear simple... Yet, only those capable of driving long can attempt the birdie. Water is in play all along from the tee box down to the green. Strategy and precision are essential.

- HOLE N°7 (Par 3: 220m)

A real test for distance, accuracy and control among highly skilled players. Numerous tees enable you to vary the distance and the angles of approach, leaving plenty of alternatives for less experienced players.

- HOLE N°8 (Par 4: 417m)

A Par 4 for players who love the Driver. The double green of over 2 000m² is a perfect setting to test your long putting skills.

- HOLE N°9 (Par 5: 548m)

This long Par 5 has been rendered difficult by a left-side gully kept as a natural sanctuary and which will doubtlessly penalize a wandering ball. Watch out for the green's unsuspected slopes.

- HOLE N°10 (Par 4: 376m)

The view from the island tee box facing the Atlas Mountains is spectacular. Be careful with the wadi that runs along this relatively short Par 4 and its well protected green.

- HOLE N°11 (Par 5: 511m)

The landscaping on this Par 5 is beautifully balanced. A birdie is achievable as long as you avoid the trappings of the numerous, subtly positioned bunkers.

- HOLE N°12 (Par 3: 117m)

A well-defended Par 3. On this double green, depending on flag positioning and your accuracy, you may find yourself playing unexpected shots.

- HOLE N°13 (Par 4: 407m)

With as much waste bunker surface as fairway area, you will need to give it your best. Distance and skill are called upon on this scenic « signature » hole.

- HOLE N°14 (Par 4: 314m)

Stretching along in the opposite direction of hole 13, the simplicity of this short Par 4 depends on the quality of your tee shot. A kind invitation to a birdie, a fleeting truce from the course's challenges...

- HOLE N°15 (Par 4: 455m)

Two strong and accurate shots are necessary on this hole. The longest and most demanding of the course's Par 4's, a wayward or short drive will suggest laying-up on the second to avoid the punitive green side bunkers.

- HOLE N°16 (Par 5: 500m)

After a successful tee shot, long hitters may go for the green. No tricks on the green's approach and a good opportunity to score under par.

- HOLE N°17 (Par 3: 189m)

To tame this challenging Par 3, be more water conscious than ever and lean to the left always. Sand save or chipping could be good score protecting options.

- HOLE N°18 (Par 4: 382m)

There are bunkers to avoid on each side of the fairway at drive's landing. The second shot overlooks the green and depending on the flag's position and the accuracy of your approach shot, water remains a threat. Last minute turnarounds may provide for a lively and dramatic finish.
